Independent Auditors' Report

Stockholder of
Atrium Securities, Inc.

We have audited the statement of financial condition of Atrium Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2002 that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. This financial statement is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this statement of financial condition based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with U.S. generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the statement of financial condition referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Atrium Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2002, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Atrium Securities, Inc.
Notes to the Statement of Financial Condition

Note 1 Nature of Operations and Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Operations—Atrium Securities, Inc. (the "Company") is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and is a member of the NASD. The Company earns commissions primarily by offering managed products from commodity trading advisors to customers in the United States.

Income Taxes—No provision has been made for federal income taxes as the Company has elected to be taxed as an S corporation under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and, accordingly, income is taxable to the stockholder.

Income Recognition—Commissions earned from selling managed products and related commission expense are recorded on trade date.

Advertising—Advertising costs are expensed as incurred.

Use of Estimates—In preparing financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 2 Related-Party Transactions

The Company has an expense agreement with an entity affiliated through common ownership that provides for payment of expenses without reimbursement including, but not limited to, office facilities, utilities, communications, general administration or clerical support, and managerial services.

The Company accrues and pays all other expenses including, but not limited to, commission payments due to registered representatives; licensing, registration and banking fees; audit and legal expenses; tax and liability insurance and expenses of other outside vendors with whom the Company has contracted.

Note 3 Concentrations

Three customers accounted for 88 percent of the Company's revenue for the year ended December 31, 2002.

Note 4 Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1). Under this rule, the Company is required to maintain net capital equal to $5,000 or 6-2/3 percent of aggregate indebtedness, whichever is greater, as these terms are defined.

Net capital and aggregate indebtedness change from day to day, but at December 31, 2002, the Company had net capital and net capital requirements of $15,420 and $5,000, respectively. The net capital rule may effectively restrict the payment of cash dividends.
